Rev. Dr. Ann Laird Jones received the MDiv degree from Louisville Seminary in 1982, and the Doctor of Ministry degree in Arts and Theology from Wesley Theological Seminary in 2008. She is an ordained minister in the PCUSA, and a member of St. Andrew Presbytery. Since 1993 Ann is the Director of Arts Ministry at Montreat Conference Center, where she focuses on collaborative worship planning and visual arts for Summer Sunday Worship, as well as directing the Currie Craft Center and Sally Jones Pottery, as well as teaching at Worship and the Arts: Advent, Arts, Recreation and Worship (ARW) Conference, Road Scholars, and Fall Craft Week. Candy Wheat, director of Arts Ministry at Trinity Presbyterian Church, is her favorite potter! Ann has always found tremendous energy in the vigorous and thrilling conversation between arts and theology, and is particularly excited about the Saint Johns Bible. She regularly commutes between Montreat, NC and Greenville, Mississippi, where she has a great husband, Michael Caulfield. They have two grown children, Sarah (Sally) 27, and Douglas, 23. She loves anything having to do with art, music, violin, books, gardening and people.

The Saint Johns Bible is here with us in worship today thanks to the generosity of Montreat Conference Center and Louisville Seminary through a grant from the Sally Jones Arts & Theology Fund.

Large print hymnals and hearing devices are available. Please feel free to ask an usher for help.

The St. John's Bible
Introduced to Trinity Presbyterian Church
by the Rev. Dr. Ann Laird Jones

The Saint John's Bible is the first completely handwritten and illuminated ("illustrated") Bible officially commissioned since the invention of the printing press.

On January 22nd, we have the privilege to experience this Bible first-hand, as well as learn more about the significance of God's Word represented in this unique and beautiful design.

The Rev. Dr. Ann Laird Jones, an alumnus of Louisville Seminary and an ordained Presbyterian minister, will share with us this exciting rendering of Scripture.

 THE SAINT JOHN'S BIBLE
in MONTREAT.

The Saint John's Bible is the first completely handwritten and hand-illuminated Bible to have been commissioned by a Benedictine Abbey since the invention of the moveable type printing press in the West printed the Gutenberg Bible in 1455. A 15-year project, the Saint John's Bible was finished in 2011 for St. John's University.

Using the New Revision Standard Version Catholic Edition of the Bible, the Saint John's Bible is divided into seven volumes and is two feet tall by three feet wide when open. The manuscript Bible was made on vellum with 160 hand illuminations.

The Saint John's Bible production was created by six calligraphers and six illuminators who used a variety of artistic genres.

Montreat Conference Center is hosting the heritage edition of the Gospel & Acts version of the Saint John's Bible and will be offering programs for churches, seminaries, and other groups through August 2017. Inquiries should be sent to stjohnsbible@montreat.org.
