Trinity Presbyterian Church

September 25, 2016

We extend a special welcome to our guests today! We hope you will find comfort and meaning in our service as we worship together. After the service, please join us at the entrance doors to receive a welcome gift and become better acquainted. Our church family appreciates your presence here today, and we look forward to seeing you again soon.

GATHERING TOGETHER

WELCOME & ANNOUNCEMENTS

SHARING JOYS AND CONCERNS

PRELUDE: Chorus from, Judas Maccabeus G F Handel
Natalie Hayden and Doug Harville

CALL TO WORSHIP: based on Psalm 108:1-4 Jeannette Priebe
Leader: Because our hearts are fixed upon you, we will praise you with all that we are.
People: Your praise will ever be on our lips; we will honor you among all the people.
Leader: For your love is higher than the heavens; your faithfulness reaches to the ends of the earth.

* GATHERING SONG: I Exalt Thee (see insert)

* PRAYER OF CONFESSION: (unison) Jeannette Priebe
Lord, your Word tells us, “There is now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus.” Who we are and how we live is shaped by who Christ is and the work he finished on the cross. Enable us to live freely in your forgiveness, joyfully in your presence, and purely by your power. Make our lifestyle match who we are as new creations in Christ Jesus. Trusting in your promise to forgive, we confess to you... (silent confession)

SILENT CONFESSION ASSURANCE OF PARDON

* GREETING ONE ANOTHER:
Leader: May the peace of Christ be with you.
People: And also with you.

* CONGREGATIONAL RESPONSE: #579—Glory Be to the Father

Live Simply

Face the Truth

Not that I am referring to being in need; for I have learned to be content with whatever I have.

– Philippians 4:11

Katharine, a friend of mine, recently went on a road trip that took her near a house of an acquaintance, a woman she had met but was not particularly close to. Katharine values minimalism and thrift, so she asked if she might stay the night with her acquaintance. Katharine later explained to me, "I only expected a shower and a bed, and certainly no more than a bowl of cereal for breakfast. But what I received was a full experience: decadent, home-cooked meals, a collection of new friends, great conversation, and the warming of a soul that only comes with hospitality towards the whole person, perfectly executed." Katharine, sought simplicity, but she received generosity.

While simple living is not so simple, it can lead to generosity in many forms: generous giving of time, generous giving of money, generous giving of love, and eventually, generous thanksgiving. Philippians 4:11 reminds us, however, that complications arise when attempting to live simply. As Paul sought to live simply, Epaphroditus "came close to death for the work of Christ, risking his life to make up for those services that you could not give me" (2:30).

And yet, for those of us who have much, living simply can become a call to action responding to God's good and unexpected gifts to us. Like Paul, as we live out the gospel of Christ we cannot expect that simple living is easy. But we might find that with God, simple living is faithful.

–from the writings of Adam Copeland in the Giving: Growing Faithful Stewards in Your Congregation magazine volume 18

As you worship today and throughout this week, think about ways God might be calling you to live more simply. What risks are you willing to take and what challenges are you willing to overcome to live more simply and generously?
