Prayer Concerns

Fred Groebli (Bert & Suzanne Lundstrom’s nephew); Ann Hocker (friend of Linda Jones); Wayne Sheeler (Diane Jewell’s father); Sandy Koukola; Janet Pender; Brent (Bill & RoseMary Hambleton’s grandson); Aleyamma Chetty; Gwen Tomlin; Andrew Petty; Camille Williams-Neal; Margaret Bloss; Doc & Jane Kurfees; Dottie Watson; Diane Frye; Phil Strohmeier; Henry Hinson (grandson of TPC preschool teacher, Gail Hinson); Mary Corum; Marie Farris; Norma Pennington; Norma Rich (mother of Mary Harville); Clyde Muse; Erica Shelley; Richard Ross; Marjorie Malzahn; Matt Zoeller; Richard Paulmann; Andrew Cropper (Cathy & Tom Dawson’s nephew); David Strohmeier (son of Phil & Linda); Kathy Willinger (Steve & Kay Nolan’s daughter); Traci Genevose (Ann Moorman’s step-sister); Carrey Dewey (Ann Moorman’s friend); John Hanson (Jim McDaniel’s brother-in-law); our service people and their families; peace in the world.

In the middle of expressing appreciation to the Philippian church for their financial support of his ministry, Paul writes some strange words for a thank you note. They sound like a bit of an aside. "Not that I am referring to being in need...." Reading this note over the shoulders of my Philippian brothers and sisters, my initial response would be to stop payment on my check to the great apostle if he does not really need it. But such a knee jerk reaction would miss the main point of what Paul says next. He continues, "...for I have learned to be content with whatever I have." The apostle accepts the gift of the Philippian congregation from an enviable place in life—a place of calm contentment. He has learned one of the most valuable lessons any of us can learn; namely, to get along just fine with what one has.

I am envious of Paul. I am not there yet. I grew up in the Baby Boomer generation. If I take a painfully honest look at myself and my lifestyle, I must admit that I have not yet learned to be content with whatever I have. It is a good (and vitally necessary) goal. I am still learning to do that which Paul had mastered by the time he penned this letter. Call me a recovering consumerist.

For me, the beginnings of recovery started in Lent 2015, when I read a Facebook post from a pastor/friend. She suggested that instead of giving up food or beverage for Lent, it would be good to clean out closets, garages, drawers, and the like; and contribute forty bags of "stuff" to a suitable recipient. While I did not get forty bags of "stuff" together, I got started on rightsizing—another step in the recovery process. My friend's church was the recipient of three bags of shoes for their "Soles for Souls" ministry. In other words, we need to take a lesson from the apostle Paul and learn to be content with what we have now; not what we had in the '50s and '60s. Faithful stewardship requires it!

-from the writings of Maribeth Westerfield in the Giving: Growing Faithful Stewards in Your Congregation magazine volume 18

As you worship today and throughout this week, pray that God will give you insight into how you can become more content, and how you can share enough with a needy and hurting world.

Today's flowers are given by Jeannette Priebe in loving memory of her husband, Vic.

Our collection counters next week will be Janet Husband and Carol Hartmann and our ushers next week will be Tim Barnum, Kay Nolan, Jeannette Priebe and Jessica Lankford.
